There is way too much violence on TV. Much of it in the form of "cartoons", animation and children's shows. Violence begets violence. Children often mimic what they see. Let's give them a chance to be compassionate individuals and stop desensitizing them to the violence.